Persons utilizing the wireless connection agree to comply with all provisions of the LHML acceptable use policy as described herein.

The Library's wireless connection is unencrypted and unfiltered. Use of the wireless connection is done at the patron's own risk. By using this connection, patrons acknowledge any security risks associated with wireless service and agree to hold the Library harmless from any unauthorized use or access into the patron's computer, as well as from any damage done to the patron's equipment from viruses, spyware, or other internet-borne programs.

Patrons may not use the internet for any illegal activity, including violation of copyright, viewing or dissemination of pornography, or accessing unauthorized networks. Any unlawful activities will be reported to local law enforcement.

Using library computers, networks, or WiFi to copy and distribute copyright protected works may be an infringement of the copyright law (Title 17 U.S. Code).

The Library accepts no responsibility regarding the ability of patron owned equipment to connect to the wireless network. Library staff will not change settings on patron equipment.

Wireless printing from portable computers is available by following prompts on the Library's website.

Any inappropriate behavior or disregard of this policy will result in loss of access to the Library's internet service.
